The standout appeal of Mildura is that it is set on the banks of the magnificent Murray River - Australia's most important waterway, it provides visitors with an irresistible choice of leisure activities.

From drifting aboard a houseboat, to enjoying fresh local produce and wines, a spot of golf or exploring the natural wonders that surround, Mildura has something for all.

Long-recognised as an important Australian food bowl, Mildura’s vast surrounding agricultural districts are bursting with grapes, citrus fruits, almonds, olives, countless varieties of vegetables plus much more.

Closer to town, local restaurants and eateries celebrate the magnitude of locally grown produce and offer a truly cosmopolitan ambience. Our main eating precinct is aptly known as “Feast Street” - not just for its food, but also for the generous selection of fine local wines - many of them award winners - that are so popular with locals and visitors alike.

A short walk in the city and your senses are drawn to our arts, culture and history. Art galleries, museums, a number of sculptures and historic sites are dotted throughout the city streets.

Mildura’s big open skies, sun soaked days and welcoming locals will cast a long and lasting impression, leaving treasured memories of holidays here.

Mallee Highway Touring Route

The Mallee Highway Touring Route stretches from Tooleybuc in NSW, heading west through a plethora of small Victorian country towns to Tailem Bend in South Australia. Considered the shortest route from Adelaide to Sydney, Canberra and the Snowfields, the track offers an abundance of hidden treasures with big skies and a rich agricultural landscape. The passionate and welcoming communities along the drive love sharing their unique offerings like the rare Malleefowl found in Murrayville, or Australia's largest mallee stump in Ouyen.

Starting at Tooleybuc a small river oasis with golf, tennis, bowls and a great club, make your way through Piangil to the small town of Manangatang. Legendary for its annual country racing event, the “Manang Races” bring people from far and wide for a great day out. The 1916 Manangatang Railway Station, originally the prototype for thirty railway stations around Victoria, is well worth a visit along with other historic buildings showcased at this crossroads to the Mallee and Murray.

Ouyen, a busy dry land farming area in the heart of the Victorian Mallee producing wheat, barley and prime mallee lamb, is surrounded by national parks including Wyperfeld, Hattah-Kulkyne and Murray-Sunset National Parks alive with an abundance of drought-resistant wildflowers. In this quaint township go shopping, see a film at the restored ROXY theatre, or dine at the Club or Victoria Hotel for a real slice of country life.

Walpeup’s (pronounced wol-pee-up) Memorial Hall houses a large collection of historic photographs of locals who served in both World Wars, an historic “welcome home” banner from the first world war and a beautiful hand crafted community sewn mural tapestry created in 1989. A wayside stop, corner of Creagan Street and Murphy Road, provides a well maintained spot for caravans or tents about 100 metres from Shubert’s Walk, a nature walk alive with native trees and shrubs in their natural setting.

Known as the Gateway to the Pink Lakes and Murray-Sunset National Park, Underbool is alive in Spring teeming with an abundance of wildflowers, wildlife and birdlife. Best seen in winter, The Pink Lakes provide a perfect opportunity for a photo stop to capture their natural magic. The Underbool Hotel serves great meals while nearby caravan and camping facilities provide ideal spots to stay.

Further west, Kow Plains Homestead near Cowangie is a beautifully restored drop log construction homestead, one of the surviving Mallee colonial homesteads built around 1879 as a head station for Kow Plains. Heritage listed in 1989 the homestead was bestowed with an honourable mention in the UNESCO Asian Pacific Heritage awards in 2002.

Murrayville is great 4WD territory, well known by driving enthusiasts, naturalists and photographers as a popular location to experience the essence of the outback with its wildflowers, wildlife and sunsets. Located between the Murray-Sunset National Park and the Big Desert State Forest, Murrayville is home to diverse flora and fauna as well as grain and sheep farming. New, less conventional farming enterprises including olives, goats, permaculture and potatoes are emerging throughout this area.

Like many things in life, the Mallee’s beauty is in the detail just waiting to be explored from either east or west along this popular route.

The Darling and the Murray are Australia’s two longest rivers. The Murray weaves its magic through three states, New South Wales, Victoria and South Australia.

In New South Wales, the Darling River flows through Menindee Lakes and Kinchega National Park, all the way south to the township of Pooncarie to join the Murray at Wentworth where the confluence creates a spectacular display of swirling waters. The confluence (see inset) can be seen at Junction Park in Wentworth where the best vantage point is the viewing tower.

Take time to view one of the several weirs and locks along the river which are part of the Murray irrigation scheme. Originally constructed in the 1920s and 1930s, the system of weirs and locks was designed to provide stable levels for irrigation diversions and year round navigation for commercial cargo and paddle steamers. Today the locks serve an increasing number of houseboats, tourist cruise boats and other recreational craft as well as providing a stable water level all year round. Another unique way to explore the river is by hiring small river craft like tinnies or hire boats.

See the Tours section for more ways of exploring this unique area.
Mungo National Park
Mungo National Park situated in NSW, only 146kms or a two-hour drive from Mildura, is the site of one of the world’s most ancient and precious cultural treasures. Among Mungo’s distinctive lunette landscapes are the resting place of many Aboriginal ancestors. It was here, in the eroding sediments, that the 42,000-year-old remains of Mungo Lady and Mungo Man were found. When they were discovered and “returned” from the deep past, Mungo Lady and Mungo Man re-wrote the book on Australia’s ancient human history. The ritual burial sites are some of the oldest remains of modern humans to be found outside of Africa. Mungo Lady, who was discovered first, is the oldest known cremation in the world, representing the early emergence of humanity’s spiritual beliefs.

Unless travelling with an organised tour, you will need your own transport to explore Mungo National Park. Unsealed roads link all the main features, over distances which are mostly unsuited to walking. However the central area of park facilities can be readily linked on foot.

A four wheel drive vehicle is not necessary in dry weather however some roads in and around the park may be closed after rain. The Walls of China Boardwalks are open to public access. Supervised access to the Walls of China beyond the boardwalk is available through the Park’s Aboriginal Discovery Rangers or a licensed tour operator.

For information on Mungo visit www.visitmungo.com.au
For nature lovers there’s an abundance of distinctive nature based experiences within varying distances of Mildura; some only a few minutes away and others a couple of hours drive. Walking, cycling, bird watching, fishing, boating and camping are just some of the popular activities available in and around Mildura. The Victorian Mallee Parks cover over one million hectares and are extremely important for nature conservation because of their relatively undisturbed state.

Hattah-Kulkyne National Park and Murray-Kulkyne Park
About an hour’s drive south east of Mildura are these two pristine parks nestled beside spectacular stretches of the Murray River. Centred on an impressive lakes system, these adjoining parks offer an abundance of wildlife, majestic River Red Gums, ancient Buloke trees and the distinctive Mallee for which this region is renowned. The park is ideal for canoeing, picnics, bike riding, walking or just relaxing in the tranquil settings, a birdwatcher’s delight with over 200 bird species including the rare Mallee Fowl which breed in the park.

Murray-Sunset National Park
Victoria’s own outback; Murray-Sunset National Park, stretches from the Murray River at Lindsay Island in the north and south to the Pink Lakes near Underbool. It’s great for 4WD and some 2WD touring, bushwalking and camping. The park has a fascinating history, abundant wildlife such as red kangaroos and emus, and beautiful spring wildflowers. Within an hour’s drive of Mildura, it is one of the few remaining semi-arid regions in the world where the environment is relatively untouched. With its wide open landscapes, breathtaking sunsets and starry nights, its vastness and isolation, it is certainly worth spending a night. Home to the spectacular Pink Lakes, these four lakes off the Mallee Highway are filled with very saline underground water; the extraordinary pinkish/reddish colour is formed by a tiny critter called Dunaliella Salina, algae that produce the red colouring to protect its cells from the sun. This colour is most intense on overcast days - great for photography buffs.

For further information on this drive visit: www.iconic4wd.com.au

Murray River Islands
In the north of the park sit a series of islands - Wallpolla, Lindsay and Mulcra. They sit in Murray River floodplain and include River Red Gums, salt bush plains, seasonal lakes and grasslands. Middens and hearths remain from Aboriginal occupation and the land has previously been used for grazing and forestry since European settlement. Activities include fishing (a Victorian fishing licence is required), boating and camping. Access is via the Old Mail Route Road (Dry weather tracks only), this road is accessible via various turn offs from the Sturt Highway at Merbein, Cullulleraine and near the South Australian border.

Kings Billabong Park
Bordered by a wide stretch of the Murray River, home to majestic River Red Gums and a fantastic variety of birdlife, Kings Billabong is an ideal place to discover nature and its history within minutes of Mildura. Kings Billabong took its name from Captain James King, who navigated the Murray River and its tributaries in the late 19th century. Home to the original pumping station, Psyche Pumps, there are a number of historical sites within the park to view. It is a popular spot for bird watching, canoeing/kayaking, bushwalking, photography, fishing, cycling and picnics.

Red Cliffs Scenic Reserve
The town of Red Cliffs is named after the majestic cliffs located just 5km east of the township on the mighty Murray. There are excellent photo opportunities of the cliffs and the Murray River at the Red gum Gully Boardwalk and the viewing platform at Snake Gully.

Karadoc Beaches
The sandy beaches near the town of Karadoc provide good access for sail and power boating, canoeing and swimming. There are opportunities to see Aboriginal scar trees and middens. Camping and horse riding are permitted and dogs are allowed in the area.

Merbein Common
Riverbank vegetation, billabongs and native pine cover this original pumping site, which once serviced the Merbein irrigation area. Today you will find the Merbein Common one of our more enjoyable recreational areas - great for barbecues, boating, fishing and swimming. Walking tracks from the common lead to Chaffey Landing at the beginning of the newly opened Blandowski Walk which connects you with the Merbein Lookout. Access to the common is via a sealed road 5km from Merbein.

Pink Lakes, Murray-Sunset National Park
Victoria’s own ‘outback’, Murray-Sunset National Park, stretches from the Murray River at Lindsay Island in the north and south to the Pink Lakes near Underbool. It’s great for 4WD and some 2WD touring, bushwalking and camping. The park has a fascinating history, abundant wildlife such as red kangaroos and emus, and beautiful spring wildflowers. Within an hour’s drive of Mildura, it is one of the few remaining semi-arid regions in the world where the environment is relatively untouched. With its wide open landscapes, breathtaking sunsets and starry nights, its vastness and isolation, it is certainly worth spending a night. Home to the spectacular Pink Lakes, these four lakes off the Mallee Highway are filled with very saline underground water; the extraordinary pinkish/reddish colour is formed by a tiny critter called Dunaliella Salina, algae that produce the red colouring to protect its cells from the sun. This colour is most intense on overcast days - great for photography buffs.

For further information on this drive visit: www.iconic4wd.com.au
Wyperfeld National Park

Wyperfeld is one of Australia’s most fascinating national parks and is about a three hour drive south of Mildura. This vast Mallee park is a place of endless space with three distinct landscapes each offering a new experience: Big Desert country to the west, Mallee to the east; and floodplains and shifting sand dunes to the north. Autumn, winter or spring is the best time to visit and there is plenty of country to cover for 4WD enthusiasts. The central feature of this huge 356,800 hectare park is a chain of dry lake beds. When it rains the semiarid landscape is transformed by the tiny desert plants that sprout from the long dormant seeds carpeting the ground with clusters of flowers. Many visitors to this park fall in love with its beauty and wide open spaces. Visitors and campers can enjoy the James Barrett Nature Drive in the south, while 4WDs may enjoy a visit to the snow-white sand dunes of Snowdrift in the north at Pine Plains.

For information on these Victorian Parks contact Parks Victoria on 13 19 63 or visit www.parkweb.vic.gov.au

Lake Cullulleraine

As locals say ‘The Lake’ is a great spot for a picnic or if travelling an overnight stop between Mildura and Renmark/Paringa. Only a 45 minute drive west from Mildura the lake is like an oasis in the Mallee farming area. It features walking and canoe trails with sporting grounds in a park setting. The lake is natural but is kept filled from Lock 9 on the Murray River. Activities include boating (sail and power boats), swimming, picnics, camping and caravans (powered sites available). Access is via the township of Cullulleraine.

Perry Sandhills

The Perry Sandhills, named after George Perry the first land commissioner to serve this area, are a unique land formation of 400 acres of continuously shifting sand dunes. Located just outside of Wentworth on the Old Renmark Road. Take the family out for a picnic or fun sliding down the dunes. Only 6 kms from the junction of Australia’s two greatest rivers, the Murray and Darling, yet standing in the middle of the sandhills you could be in the Sahara Desert!

Etiwanda Wetlands

The Etiwanda Wetlands on Mildura’s city fringe is only a short drive or walk from the CBD at the river end of Etiwanda Avenue. It is a tranquil spot for bushwalking, cycling and bird watching.

The 16 hectare site features a series of ponds and an abundance of native plants. A network of walking trails, complete with bridges and boardwalks wind their way throughout the wetlands and a bird hide sits amongst shrubs on the bank of a pond for keen birdwatchers.

Apex Beach

Visitors are often surprised to find pristine, white sandy beaches along the Murray River that are surrounded by native flora and provide places to swim. Apex Beach also has a boat ramp. There is a great walking/cycling track from the Old Mildura Homestead along the river to Apex Beach.

Parks, picnic spots and playgrounds

There are a number of parks, picnic spots and playgrounds in our region where you can take family and friends:

Mildura’s Riverfront is currently undergoing redevelopment that will reinvigorate 1.2 kms of prime parkland near the CBD. The finished project will connect the river to the city at Langtree Avenue via a pedestrian pathway crossing at the existing railway line. The upgrade, particularly around the current Ornamental Lake, will incorporate a significant water play area, improved Skate Park and landscaping, as well as new shaded barbeque areas.

history & heritage
The Mildura Sculpture Triennials

Visitors to Mildura can't help but notice the number of substantial modern sculptures in public areas. These are the legacy of a series of remarkable events known broadly as The Mildura Sculpture Triennials. It all began modestly in 1961 as the Mildara Prize for Sculpture (Mildara was the sponsoring wine company) and in 1964 became the Mildura Sculpture Triennial, then finally in 1970 Sculpturescape. It was the first event to promote and encourage large scale contemporary sculpture, site-specific installations and performance art in Australia and was quite unique in the history of Australian art.

Artists came to Mildura from all around Australia and overseas; at its height the event occupied a large area of river flat where ambitious and often controversial artworks took shape. The Mildura Sculpture Triennials were ahead of their time and remarkable for taking place in a remote regional city.

By 1988, the year of the final event, there were major disagreements with council and state government funding support was directed elsewhere. Over the duration of the Triennials many sculptures were acquired and the name Mildura remains associated with dynamic and exciting arts experiments. To find out more visit Mildura Arts Centre, 199 Cureton Avenue, Mildura.

Art Deco Walking Tour

Many significant buildings in Mildura and the outlying areas exhibit features that were either built during the Art Deco period (1920 -1950) or were influenced by the style. This walking tour is an introduction to the Art Deco heritage still found in and around Mildura. Following the establishment of the irrigation colony in 1887, the first buildings in Mildura were in the Victorian and later the Federation style employing local red brick, corrugated iron roofs and wide verandas. Between the First and Second World Wars, the three architectural styles emerged (Federation, Victorian and Art Deco) in both housing and commercial buildings in Mildura up until the 1950’s.

Kow Plains Homestead

Just 100 kms south of Mildura begins what is known as ‘sunet country’. On the border of Murray-Sunset National Park, on the Mallee Highway, lies a small town called Cowangie. Home to the restored, heritage listed, 1860’s remains of the historic drop log Kow Plains Homestead - yes originally Cow Plains, but the name was surprisingly changed by authorities - an evocative remnant of settlement life in one of the most remote parts of the state.

Millewa Pioneer Village

Just over 95 kms west of Mildura on the Millewa Road at Meringur live the proud wheat farming descendants of the Millewa region’s early pioneering families. Developed and maintained by the keen descendants, the Millewa Pioneer Village is a well-designed reconstruction of a turn-of-the-century village settlement set on 12 hectares of local bushland.

Wentworth National Trust Heritage Walk/Drive Trail

Visitors can collect a map from the Wentworth Visitor Information Centre and enjoy strolling the streets of Wentworth at their leisure.

The township of Wentworth has a rich history and this is the perfect way to unlock some of the secrets of its past. Did you know that during the 1880’s due to its thriving and bustling status as a river port, Wentworth was seriously considered to become the nation’s capital city?

Thegoa Lagoon Trails

Thegoa Lagoon and Reserve is significant to the Aboriginal community due to its location at the junction of the Murray and Darling Rivers. Walks and self-drive tours through the lagoon highlight the diverse native flora and fauna as well as numerous sites of interest including burial sites, scarred trees, middens and campsite remnants.
The Chaffey Trail

The Chaffey Trail tells the story of how Mildura became Australia’s first irrigated settlement in the midst of an arid land. Brothers George and William Chaffey were developing an irrigation settlement in Ontario, California when they met the Victorian Cabinet Minister Alfred Deakin. Deakin was appointed by the Victorian Parliament to visit America on a fact finding mission.

The Chaffey’s model irrigation settlement impressed Deakin who in turn impressed them with the potential for irrigation from the Murray River in Australia.

The Chaffey brothers subsequently came to Australia and, after protracted negotiation, in 1887 purchased a then defunct pastoral lease to create the Mildura Irrigation Colony.

The Chaffeys adapted the plan of Ontario to the present site of Mildura. They developed a series of steam-driven pumps to lift the water from the Murray River, first into Kings Billabong then subsequently to various heights to irrigate up to 33,000 acres. The Psyche Pumps (many believe the name came from Greek mythology: Psyche was the goddess of the soul) were a revolutionary design of George Chaffey. It was a triple expansion steam engine connected to three centrifugal pumps and driven by a wood burning boiler.

Visitors to the pumps can experience the original pump house, reconstructed pumps, steam engine and boiler house.

The Chaffey brothers wanted to make Mildura a vibrant community. Their plans included many visionary concepts. Today visitors can follow the self-drive Chaffey Trail to more than nine fascinating historical landmarks including Rio Vista Historic House and the Old Mildura Homestead.

Further information is available from the Mildura Visitor Information Centre or at www.visitmildura.com.au/chaffey-trail.

Trentham Estate Winery

About half a century ago, the first vines were planted at Trentham Cliffs in far western New South Wales. From these early beginnings Jack Murphy instilled his knowledge of viticulture to his family, who established Trentham Estate. The vineyards flourished in the rich red loam over limestone soils nurtured by water from the magnificent Murray River. The Murphys today continue the tradition, with Pat Murphy guiding the vineyards with exciting new varieties such as Vermentino and Maestri and improved clones of the more traditional varieties. With these quality grapes the winemaking team, headed by Anthony Murphy, produce varietal wines which have become renowned for their flavour and palatability. Take the 15 minute drive from Mildura or a fantastic river cruise to the Estate – you won’t be disappointed! Trentham Estate is recognised as being one of Mildura’s best tourism destinations where you can taste and buy the Estate’s wines at the Cellar Door, savour local cuisine at its finest in the Restaurant, or enjoy a gourmet platter or fully-catered BBQ overlooking the mighty Murray.

Cellar Door open 7 days 9.30am - 5pm, Restaurant open for lunch Tuesday - Sunday, BBQs Thursday - Saturday.

Help us to keep Fruit Fly out

This map shows a Fruit Fly Exclusion Zone stretching across the major fruit-growing regions of South Australia, Victoria and New South Wales.

To keep these important food producing areas free of Fruit Fly, you cannot take fruit or vegetables into the Exclusion Zone, or over State borders within this Zone. You must eat or dispose of fruit and vegetables before travelling through the Fruit Fly Exclusion Zone.

Fixed and random roadblocks operate within the Zone - on the spot fines greater than $500 may be issued.

Lower Murray Water welcomes all visitors to the Sunraysia area. We rely on the river – for primary production, for industry, for drinking water, for our wildlife and for having fun. Please assist us to conserve and protect our precious water resource while enjoying your stay and all our area has to offer. Keep your shower to 4 minutes - you can save 20-40 litres of water by cutting your shower time by just 2 minutes. A running tap can use up to 10 litres per minute - turn off the tap when brushing your teeth or shaving. Getting your towels replaced each day greatly increases water and energy consumption - consider reducing your laundry.

information

Climate
Mildura has a typical Mediterranean climate with dry summers and mild winters. Summer temperatures vary, but 35 - 40 degrees is common. Most rain falls between May and October with average annual rainfall approximately 282mm. The spring and autumn months bring warm days and cool nights.

Caring for the outback
Learning to tread softly in the bush can minimise damage to the natural environment. You can help by using facilities provided and keeping to existing tracks. Visiting reserves outside of peak periods can also help reduce the overall impact.

Driving tips
Ensure your vehicle is in excellent mechanical condition before setting out on an outback adventure. Carry spare belts, hoses, emergency water, food and fuel supplies. In the event of a breakdown, or if lost, stay with your vehicle. When travelling on unsealed roads exercise caution and ‘read’ the road well ahead of the vehicle.

Fishing licenses
To fish in the Murray River, you are required by law to pay the NSW Recreational Fishing Fee and have the receipt for payment of the current fee in your immediate possession. You can pay the fishing fee at the Mildura Visitor Information Centre and at most tackle outlets or by phoning: 1300 550 474 or online: www.dpi.nsw.gov.au. For information on fishing in Victorian waterways visit: www.dpi.vic.gov.au/fisheries.
